

Air Force Bungling Charged; Navy Irked By Slash In Budget

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee said today the defense department has decided to cut naval and marine aviation "about in half."

Vinson's report of "secret orders" at the Pentagon came as the committee dug grimly into "disturbing" reports that defense chiefs are scuttling the Navy's air arm.

The Armed Services chairman said further that he has it on reliable authority that the air force has taken the position that no large aircraft carriers or their air groups should be kept in the navy.

Vinson spoke up as his committee started another day's hearing to get to the bottom of friction in the Armed Services. Before the committee was Rear Adm. Herbert G. Hopwood, navy budget officer, to explain the navy's financial position.

Hopwood was called to tell what is happening to funds earmarked by Congress for naval air. That inquiry follows up navy charges yesterday of air force bungling and plotting.

Vinson himself reeled off figures from this year's appropriation for the navy—which, Congress has not finally decided.

These, he said, show cuts for the navy air arm that indicate "Congress intended to let it wither on the vine by failing to give it enough operating aircraft."

Hopwood was brought into the hearing by Vinson, who said he was "greatly disturbed" by a report that Secretary of Defense Johnson had ordered a $300,000,000 cut in navy spending for this year out of funds not yet approved by Congress.

Rep. Bates (R-Mass.) later told reporters that Congress' intentions are being arbitrarily by-passed, and if the proposed cut materializes "there will be no naval aviation left."

It appeared likely that Johnson will be called on the carpet before the group concludes its investigation.

Committee members spoke out strongly against reported attempts to take away from the navy money appropriated to it by Congress. Bates, speaking from information he said was confidential, declared the biggest cut proposed by Johnson would hit the navy's air arm.

"Johnson told the navy it had to save $353,000,000, of which $203,000,000 was to come from the Bureau of Aeronautics," he told reporters.

Of this $203,000,000, Bates continued, $180,000,000 was for procurement of aircraft.

This meant, Bates said, that navy plane buying would be reduced to 45 planes a month by 1952—as compared with a 1941 figure of 300 a month.

He said that under this program the navy would wind up with an operating reserve of only 2,000 planes, compared with 5,432 in operating status before Pearl Harbor.

No Break Sighted In Labor Tieups

(By The Associated Press)
There wasn't much to cheer about on the nation's labor front today.

Here's a quick run-down of major disputes which already have made idle more than a million workers:

There was nothing to indicate an early settlement of the country's major labor trouble—strikes by some 850,000 steel and coal workers.

There were threats of a nationwide railroad strike and a walk-out by some 20,000 aluminum workers in eight states.

The continuing strike by John

Mail Fraud Trial Bares Story Of Tucker Promotion

Chicago, Oct. 8 (AP)—The multi-million dollar mail fraud trial of Preston Tucker and seven Tucker corporation associates was in recess over the weekend today.

The government's third witness was on the stand during all of yesterday's session before a federal court jury. He related his association with Tucker in the early days of his unsuccessful promotion of a rear-engine automobile.

The witness, Arnold R. Peterson, a seat cover specialist who once worked as a Ford superintendent for 16 years, said Tucker invited him to join the auto venture in 1945 and told him: "We could make a lot of money."

Peterson quoted Robert Pierce, former Tucker corporation treasurer and director and one of the eight defendants in the trial as telling him in 1947: "Tucker is crooked and I'm getting out."

The witness testified he worked for Tucker from April 6, 1946, to Nov. 25, 1948 and now is unemployed.

Peterson told the jury Tucker said in 1947 that he had signed 1,900 dealers and 76 distributors for the Tucker car. Peterson also testified he got 13 miles a gallon, instead of the 30 miles Tucker claimed, when he drove a hand-made Tucker car to Montana in 1948.

As the criminal case was being heard in the courtroom of Judge Walter Labby, trustees of the bankrupt auto firm were given until Dec. 12 by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe to prepare a reorganization plan or submit a report that reorganization is inadvisable.

Chinese Flee From Canton As Reds Crack North Front

State Prison Camps To Get About 200 Men

Tahquamenon Winter Shelter Not Ready

Lansing, Oct. 8 (AP)—Close to 195 prison inmates will be in conservation labor camps by spring, Corrections Commissioner Earnest C. Brooks said today.

This will approach the goal of 200 in the fiscal year ending next June 30. At present there are 135 men in four camps.

The increase will be helped along in two weeks when the permanent camp being built at the Porcupine Mountains State park will be occupied for the first time. This will increase the capacity of the camp from 30 to 50.

However, 12 of the new berths will be taken up by the prisoners now working in the Tahquamenon. There are no winter facilities at Tahquamenon as yet. The 12 men have been building permanent camp buildings but they are not close enough to completion for use this winter.

However, it is planned to move another 12 men into Tahquamenon in spring to continue that project.

At the Porcupines, in addition to completing their permanent camp, the prisoners are clearing two ski slopes and building a shelter house in a new winter sports development. The conservation department had completed a winter work program for the prisoners which includes inside work for days when the weather makes outside work impossible.

The prisoners at Pontiac Lake and Waterloo recreation areas, in addition to other work, have completed the planting of 65,000 hard-wood trees this year. Combined with the 50,000 trees planted by prisoners from the Pioneer Water-lake camp last year, this brings the total of prisoner-planted trees to 115,000.

Western Berlin Condemns Reds

Germans Rise Against Puppet Republic

Berlin, Oct. 8 (AP)—Western Berlin and the rest of Allied-controlled Germany lined up today to protest the new "German Democratic Republic" proclaimed under Russian auspices yesterday for the Soviet zone.

West Berlin's Mayor Ernst Reuter called the city assembly to consider the new situation at a meeting today. Reuter appealed to all Berliners to demand "free elections in all of Berlin and a Democratic Germany within peaceful Europe."

Reuter asked all Berliners to demonstrate today in the big square in front of the town hall. At Bonn, seat of the rival Allied-approved "German Federal Republic," protests were also quick in coming against the new regime set up without benefit of election in the Russian zone.

The Western Republic's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said in a statement the new government "Lacks the only legitimacy which gives a state its legitimate foundation, namely the legitimization by the people."

Deputy Rudolf Katz said the new Soviet creation was a "Quisling government."

A spokesman for the Rightist German party, Dr. Hans Joachim Von Merkat, termed the Russian-backed action "a great national catastrophe."

Coast Guard Reserve Must Wait A Year To Get $3,000,000

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—It looks like the establishment of a Coast Guard Reserve corps will have to wait another year, at least.

A House-Senate conference committee struck out of the deficiency appropriation bill, now on President Truman's desk, the money to launch such a reserve.

Mr. Truman on June 9 sent Congress a special message asking for an appropriation of $3,500,000, to set up a training program this year for 1,500 commissioned officers and 6,000 enlisted men.

Mr. Truman told Congress establishment of this reserve is essential if the Coast Guard is to be ready for duties delegated to it. The Coast Guard operates as a part of the Navy in time of war or other national emergency.

The Senate approved a $3,000,000 appropriation. But when the measure went to the House-Senate conference committee, all of it was stricken out.

Breather Taken On Farm Bill

Price Support Vote Delayed To Monday

By EDWIN B. HARRINGTON

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Senate took a short breather today in its efforts to pass a new farm bill, after accepting the flexible price support program it once had rejected.

A late-hour tangle on amendments last night put off final action until Monday, following the 45 to 26 defeat of an attempt to write in a high-support provision for basic crops.

That provision—calling for government price props at 90 per cent of parity for such farm products as cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts—has had a checkered history in this session of Congress.

It is the keystone of a House-approved measure which the Senate thus far has ignored in favor of a bill written by Senator Anderson (D-NM). The Anderson bill calls for supports on basic crops varying from 75 to 90 per cent, depending on available supplies.

Last Tuesday, Senators Young (R-ND) and Russell (D-Ga.) asked the Senate to throw out Anderson's flexible support plan for the 90 per cent provision. The Senate turned that down.

Then it voted to reconsider. On the second vote, it approved the Young-Russell amendment on a tie which was broken by the vote of Vice President Barkley. Harried Senate leaders succeeded in having the bill returned to the agriculture committee for rewriting.

The committee wrote flexible supports back into the bill, added some changes intended to swing some more votes behind the provision, and sent the bill back to the Senate.

Justice Department Gives Up Pursuit Of Gerhart Eisler

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—The justice department told the supreme court today it might as well forget about the case brought before it by Gerhart Eisler, the bail-jumping Communist.

Eisler has taken public office in the Soviet Zone of Germany, and in all probability never will return here, said solicitor general Philip B. Perlman in a formal motion filed with the high tribunal.

The fugitive Communist was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 after he refused to be sworn as a witness before the House committee on un-American activities. The charge was contempt of Congress.

He appealed to the supreme court, sat in the court chamber while attorneys argued his case, then fled from the United States before a decision was announced.

Wire Electrocutes 6 Women In Brazil

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Oct. 8 (AP)—Six women were electrocuted in succession here yesterday after an iron rod hit a high-tension wire in a flooded yard.

Mrs. Iolinda Martine had borrowed the rod to open a drain in her flooded back yard. When she touched it against live wires overhead, the current killed her. Three of her daughters, ran to save her. Each died when she touched her mother. The same fate met Mrs. Martine's sister and the neighbor who had loaned the rod.

Finally an unidentified passerby warned other would-be rescuers away from the death-trap yard.

Scraps In CIO May Throw Big Chunks Of Membership To AFL

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 8 (AP)—The AFL today embarked on a plan to carve huge membership chunks from the CIO toward achieving a figured 1,000,000-member gain in 1950.

Key officials of the American Federation of Labor said privately they expect to pick up big parts of CIO unions, when the factional scrap in the CIO comes to a head, as may happen soon.

A showdown between the CIO's left wing and the right wing elements is shaping up for the CIO convention at Cleveland later this month. CIO President Philip Murray has threatened his left wing union leaders with expulsion.

Labor circles expect the result to be a splintering up of the CIO's major unions, with the CIO trying to salvage as many members as possible and repudiated left wing leaders trying to drag large membership groups from the CIO.

Officials of the rival AFL, in annual convention here, are looking forward to an expected CIO civil war with glee. They say they hope to woo big CIO segments into AFL ranks as a result of the split.

That's what is behind the announced AFL goal to pick up a million new members next year to boost AFL political power in the 1950 elections.

The AFL has dressed up its combined vote-getting-membership as a centennial birthday celebration for Samuel Gompers, the AFL's late founder.

Gompers had advocated a neutrality for labor in national politics. AFL has discarded that policy completely for an extremely political role, mostly in favor

Hunters Caught In Idaho Storm

Hundreds Marooned By First Snowfall

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 8 (AP)—National Guardsmen battled into the Central Idaho forested area today, trying to rescue hundreds of hunters marooned by the first snow storm of the year.

National Guard six-by-six trucks from Twin Falls headed for the Cassia division of the Minidoka National Forest, carrying emergency food, blankets, clothing and car chains.

Snow that piled as deep as 10 inches in a steady, day-long storm endangered the hunters. Some 3,000 deer hunters entered the forest yesterday as a special hunt opened. The national forest lies along the Idaho-Utah border south of Twin Falls.

Many persons were taken to hospitals at Burley and Twin Falls for treatment of frost bite. In Oregon snow piled three feet deep at the popular Timberline Lodge Ski Resort on Mt. Hood.

Snow of lesser depths covered most of the Cascade range passes in Oregon and Washington.

The region recorded temperatures down to 20 degrees above zero. Mild Seattle even got a few flakes, the earliest trace of snow in history there.

Detroit Rush Hour Travel Snarled By Wildcat Walkout

Detroit, Oct. 8 (AP)—Rush hour transportation in Detroit was snarled late yesterday when a union officer, disciplined for striking a crippled stationmaster, called a wildcat strike.

The disciplinary action was canceled and the strike ended after seven hours.

The walkout affected seven important lines operating out of the Woodward terminal. One was the key Woodward Ave. streetcar line.

George Knoppe, a minor official of the AFL Bus and Streetcar Operators Union, called the strike. He faced penalties for hitting Stationmaster Wayne Morkey, Jr., member of another AFL union, Tuesday in an argument over schedules.

PILOT BREAKS JAW

Port Austin, (AP)—Robert Howard, 26, of Arcadia, suffered a broken jaw Friday when his plane hit an air pocket, struck some utility wires and crashed. His passenger, Dorothy Rogers, 31, of Port Austin, received face injuries.

Capital Ready For Evacuation To Chungking

Doomed City May Be Abandoned By Army

(By The Associated Press)

Chinese began fleeing from Canton today as the front to the north showed signs of caving in under the pressure of attacking Red armies.

Diplomats in Canton said they expected to hear Monday that the Nationalist capital was being moved to Chungking. That was the wartime capital in western China. Kulkong, anchor city only 125 miles north of Canton, was yielded without a fight. Hengyang, the Nationalist base 265 miles to the north, appeared to have been abandoned.

Press reports said Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, central front commander, had quit Hengyang and would set up headquarters at Kweilin, capital of his native Kwangsi Province.

Britain Wants Trade

That was a hint he may leave Canton to its fate. His 200,000-man army is the best left to the Nationalists on the Chinese mainland.

The pro-Communist newspaper Wen Wei Pao in Hong Kong said Communist troops entered Hengyang Friday afternoon.

In the hour of Canton's ordeal there was considerable diplomatic maneuvering.

A well-informed commonwealth diplomat in London said Britain will recognize the newly established Chinese Communist regime in Peiping. India was expected to take a like step. Other commonwealth governments might follow suit. Trade with China is a big factor.

So far only Russia and her retinue of eastern European states have recognized the "Peoples Republic" of Communist Mao Tse-tung.

The British step would break the front of western powers who so far have remained mute on the question of recognizing Peiping.

No U. S. Diplomacy

The United States, which has fewer commercial interests in Communist-occupied China, lashed out at the Mao regime. There was nothing diplomatic in Washington's language.

The state department issued a formal statement denouncing the Communist order barring the news-gathering activities of all correspondents from nations not

Czech Miners Unable To Reach Goals Set Under 5-Year Plan

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 8 (AP)—Czech coal miners—current favorites of the Communist-led government—have failed to hit the production targets set for them under the five-year plan, it was announced today.

As usual the government did not disclose what the goal for the month had been or what the monthly output was.

The official Czech news agency Ceteka placed the blame on the trade unions.

"The trade unions fell down in their work for better organization of effort in the mines for new production methods," Ceteka said. "The trade unions also failed to pay enough attention to the campaign for spreading a shock worker movement among the miners."

Scalper Needs $80

Detroit, Oct. 8 (AP)—Gene R. Kiddon, 21, a University of Michigan senior, was held today for investigation of scalping football tickets. Two officers reported Kiddon had tried to sell tickets to them at three times the regular price. Kiddon said he was trying to raise $80 to pay his fraternity board bill.

Love Of Blonde Frees Convict

Sentence Suspended; Wedding Must Wait

Baltimore, Oct. 8 (AP)—William J. Sansbury must mark time for another year before he can marry the pretty blonde whose faith paved his way to freedom.

In suspending a 10-year sentence for Sansbury yesterday, criminal court Judge Robert France said he was doing so largely because Peggy Peterson believes in the ex-convict.

Sansbury and Peggy met and fell in love in a California prison, where she was an employee and he an inmate. When he was released and turned over to Maryland authorities on an old forgery charge, she followed him here to plead for his liberty.

She told the court she knew Sansbury could become a useful member of society and they planned to marry. She even offered to help repay the $850 he had gotten through forgery.

Judge France told Sansbury he is "exceptionally lucky in having by your side and willing to help a young lady who believes in you."

He placed him on probation for three years and made his release conditional on his promise not to marry Peggy for one year, not to use any of her money in making restitution for the forgeries, and that he use any refund on his service life insurance for that purpose.

"It is her belief in you that to a large extent is responsible for your receiving a suspended sentence," Judge France said, nodding toward Peggy.

"Do not let her down."

More Reckless Drivers Fined

Warrant Issued For Speeding Motorist

Two young motorists pleaded guilty in justice court this morning to charges of reckless driving, outgrowth of a race down S. 11th street past the police station early this morning. A third person, passenger in one of the cars, pleaded guilty to being an accessory to reckless driving.

Howard Kahl, 1101 S. Third avenue, and Howard Dremboski, of Paulding, Michigan, were charged with reckless driving and paid fines of $25 and costs each. Ernest LaVigne, 416 Ludington paid costs of $8.25 and a $10 fine was suspended.

The police department also signed a complaint charging Conrad Pratt, 801 Stephenson avenue, with reckless driving. The police patrol car chased the machine allegedly driven by Pratt as far as Carroll's Corner but couldn't overtake the car. Police reported that they were travelling 80 miles an hour but were outdistanced.

William Abrahamson of Watson pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of drunken driving in the city. He was fined $50 and costs and his driver's license was revoked.

Fur Farming Aid Proposed

Many Mink Pelts Are Imported

Washington, D. C., (WNS)—In the interest of the fur-farming industry, an amendment to the trade agreements bill provides that the president "shall establish such regulations on the importation of furs and fur articles as are determined necessary by the U. S. Tariff Commission to prevent serious injury to the domestic fur-farming industry". Rep. Reid F. Murray said.

He pointed out that policies of the Truman administration have spelled ruin for the industry in this country. There is an ad valorem duty of 50 per cent on manufactured fur, but no duty on any raw fur except silver fox, he said.

The amendment was passed in the senate, and it will now come before conferees of the senate and house. If the house agrees to it and passes it, it will go to the President for action.

The duty on manufactured fur was retained, Rep. Murray said to protect labor in the fur manufacturing industry, but to deny protection to the labor that raised the furs.

"All labor is entitled to the same consideration whether on the farm or in the factory," Rep. Murray urged.

Reports of the office of foreign agricultural relations in U. S. Department of Agriculture show that in the fiscal year July 1,

Paper Company Adds To Staff

Lungo And Saunders At Groos Mill

James Lungo has recently been transferred to Escanaba from the Mead Corporation mill at Chillicothe, Ohio, to become acting superintendent of maintenance at the local mill taking over the duties of Roy Dempsey, who recently retired from the corporation.

Mr. Lungo came to the Mead corporation from the B&O railroad in 1935 and two years later he was made superintendent of construction, the capacity he has served in to the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lungo and young daughter make their home at 519 South Eighth street in Escanaba. Ernest Saunders has become a member of the Escanaba Paper company staff having been recently transferred from the Mead corporation's Buena Vista, Virginia mill.

Mr. Saunders has been employed by the Mead corporation since he graduated at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1947 receiving a B.S. degree in chemical engineering. Before coming to Escanaba he served as chemical engineer at Buena Vista and was also attached to the technical service staff at Brunswick, Ga.

Trenary

Mrs. Ronald Hawley is spending the weekend in Waukegan, Ill., visiting with her sisters.

1948 to July 1, 1949, $127,913,000 worth of raw furs were imported free of duty, except the small amount collected on the $236,000 worth of silver fox imported. Mink raw fur imported in the fiscal year was valued at $12,329,000 and there was no duty on it.

Demented Veteran, 32, Dies Of Gun Shot In Grand Rapids Mich

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 8 (AP)—Time rolled out for war veteran Roger Kohlenberger before he could be talked out of his wish for death.

His wrist bleeding from an earlier suicide attempt, Kohlenberger, 32, shot and killed himself yesterday in the dimly lighted attic where he had held two policemen and a psychiatrist at bay for three hours.

The trio of well-wishers had been hopeful that the demented young veteran would faint from loss of blood before carrying out his suicide threats and thereby could be saved.

Ironically, the mission seemingly had been successful at the moment the tragedy occurred.

Kohlenberger had consented to return downstairs where his mother and wife, Cola, 30, waited prayerfully. But just as his foot touched the top rung of the ladder, the gun went off. Whether the shot was accidental or on purpose, authorities do not know.

A bullet wound in his head, he died two hours later in Butterworth hospital.

EXPLOSION KILLS TWO

Detroit, (AP)—Six-year-old William J. Briscoe died in Receiving hospital Friday, the second victim of a tar drum explosion. Joseph Line, 6, died Tuesday. Two other boys were treated for burns received when they were splattered with the hot tar. Playmates said Joseph shoved a lit match into the 55-gallon drum.

Horse Pulling Meet Oct. 11

Champions Compete At Hillsdale

Hillsdale, Michigan will be a horseman's paradise Tuesday, October 11, when 126 top pulling teams from 12 states and Canada meet at the national horse pulling contest. Seventy-one lightweight teams, weighing under 3000 pounds, will compete in the forenoon. Included in this field will be the World Champion lightweight team owned by Charles Roehl and Sons, of Smith Creek, Michigan, and the national champions owned by Hubert Baldwin, of Leesburg, Ohio. State champions from many states will be meeting for the first time as this great field of teams come together.

Fifty-five heavyweight teams, few of them weighing less than two tons and some weighing up to 5000 pounds, will meet in the heavyweight contest held in the afternoon. Included in this field will be the National Champions, a pair of sorrel geldings, weighing 5000 pounds, owned by Fowler Brothers, of Reading, Michigan. No pair in the field will command more respect, however, than a two-ton pair owned by Maurice Barclay, of Seymour, Wisconsin. This perfect handling pair of sorrels are undefeated.

Never in the history of horse pulling will so many great teams meet in the same contests, nor will they be competing for as high a purse. ($5000.00) Great teams in both weights will be defeated for the first time as this field of teams meet for the first time. Competing teams entered in the contest will come from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Kentucky, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Missouri, Kansas and Canada.

Two dynamometers furnished by Michigan State College will be used in conducting the contest. This national contest is being sponsored for the second consecutive year by the Michigan Dynamometer association.

Steel Strike Brings Early Closing Of C&NW Docks

LAST TRIP SUNDAY — The steamer Verona of the Interlake Steamship company is pictured at the C&NW ore docks in Escanaba, loading for her last round trip to deliver ore to South Chicago. Unless the steel strike is settled soon, the final trip of the Verona to load at Escanaba on Sunday afternoon will mark the closing of the ore docks for the season.

THE SEASON ENDS — Sixteen workers descend from the top dock following the loading Thursday of the Verona. They may not be called back to work this season unless the steel strike is settled before the end of the month. They are among the last of 75 C&NW dock workers who have been laid off due to the closing of the iron mines and the steel mills. The closing is 60 days earlier than last year.

Ore Shipping Hits New Low

One Million Tons Below Last Year

When the Str. Verona of the Interlake Steamship company clears from the C&NW ore docks at Escanaba tomorrow it may end the 1949 ore shipping season—one of the shortest and lightest in many years.

For the ore docks will close because of the continuing steel strike, and will not reopen this year unless the strike is settled before the end of the month.

It will mean that the ore shipping season at Escanaba will be 60 days shorter and some 1,000,000 tons less from this port than last year, according to Lee McMillan, C&NW dock agent. It will also mean that 75 men will be out of dock jobs they ordinarily hold to early December.

During October this year 91,740 tons of ore have been loaded from the docks at Escanaba, compared with 534,297 tons for the full month last year.

To date this year a total of 3,508,013 tons of ore have been shipped, compared to 3,810,620 tons for the same period in 1948. This is a decrease of 302,607 tons.

The peak year for shipping from the C&NW ore docks was 1943, when 6,330,565 tons were loaded to meet the demands of wartime. Last year set another record—4,730,529 tons for the biggest peacetime year since 1929.

This year, unless the strike is settled and the docks reopen, the total will be 1,242,516 tons below 1943.

Former Spalding Resident Dies In Madison, Wis.

Madison, Wis.—Howard F. Ohm, 58, of 1811 Vilas ave., chief of the legislative reference library since 1933, died of a heart attack at his home early Wednesday morning.

He was born Sept. 9, 1891, at Spalding, Mich., but came to Wisconsin as a youth attending elementary and high school in Milwaukee. In 1908 he came to Madison to the university and received his law degree in 1913. He has remained in Madison since.

Mr. Ohm started his legislative reference work as a draftsman in 1911 and worked in a part-time capacity until he became chief in 1933.

Following his graduation from the university he practiced law with his half-brother, Atty. Miles C. Riley in the firm of Riley and Ohm. He specialized in legislative research, bill drafting and law revision. During this period he was retained as counsel for a number of legislative interim committees and did legal work for the board of public affairs.

From 1927 to 1931 Mr. Ohm was an examiner for the workmen's compensation division of the industrial commission. Since 1941 he had been commissioner from Wisconsin to the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws.

He served under 10 governors and supervised the drafting of legislation for 17 sessions as well as many special sessions. He was president of the Legislative Service conference.

Mr. Ohm is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Mary Ellen Kleuter, Milwaukee; and Mrs. Margaret Shepherd, Little Rock, Ark., and one grandson.

Michigan Happenings In Washington

By ESTHER TUFTY

A breakfast given by the Michigan State Society on Wednesday of this week became a morning prayer for the speedy recovery of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who recently had a lung operation at University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

It was a "no-speech" get-together of Michigan folk in Washington but the President, Mrs. Wendell Lund, mentioned the senior senator's illness in explaining his absence at this first meeting of the new season.

Senator Homer Ferguson reported late news that "Vandenberg's condition is better." That touched off an eulogy from an out-of-state guest, Democrat house leader, John McCormack, of Massachusetts, who called the senator "one of the great men of our time," and he prayed "for the good of the world" that he would be back on Capitol Hill soon.

The breakfast, an innovation, was a success.

Everyone looked a little startled to find so many Michiganders on hand at 8:30 o'clock in the morning to breakfast together in the new Congressional Hotel.

The turn-out of big names happily surprised the committee chaired by Manning Shaw, who used to be administrative assistant to former senator Prentiss M. Brown.

Every congressman was there except George Sadowski, John Dingell (still in Europe), Paul Shafer, and Clare E. Hoffman. Even Albert Engel, "who never goes to parties," was host at the 9th district table.

Other prominent were Raymond Foley, Housing and Home Finance Agency Administrator, John Gibson, Assistant Secretary of Labor, G. Donald Kennedy, vice president of Automotive Safety Foundation, and V. B. Steinbaugh, Detroit Engineer.

Not at the breakfast was Harry McDonald, SEC commissioner, formerly of Detroit, who is on his way to Denver to give a speech for the Security Traders Association.

Several Michigan members have their own "Voice of America" broadcasts beamed back to their districts. More write a newsletter.

But the newest member of the delegation, Gerald Ford, Jr., is the first to take Washington-to-his-district via the movies. The Grand Rapids Republican is making a 20 minute movie on the workings of Congress, including some sightseeing shots, for use in schools and clubs in Kent and Ottawa counties.

Today 97 percent of Michigan farms are connected to electric power lines, according to the Rural Electrification Administration's annual survey released this week by the Department of Agriculture.

Michigan is ahead of the national average of 78.2 percent. Only 11 states are above 95 percent.

According to the survey, 5,187 farms in the state are still without central station electric service as of June 30th.

When REA was established back in 1935, only 10.9 percent of the nation's farms were electrified.

This annual survey is required by Rural Electrification Act. On it depends how much money is allotted to each state. For Michigan, the 1950 loan funds total $710,741.

The Congress has passed more than a score of bills to conserve or develop the nation's natural resources. This is mostly good news for the Far West.

Michigan is concerned mostly with fish and wildlife legislation. Wildlife groups are cheered by the increase in the cost of federal duck stamps from $1 to $2 to offset rising costs encountered by wildlife conservation workers.

The sale last season of 2,127,598 "duck stamps" was record-breaking. Michigan was third with 33,582.

Legislation introduced by Congressman John Dingell provided federal aid to states to restore and aid the upkeep of state fisheries. Funds are to be derived from taxes on fishing rods, creels, lures, baits, and flies.

Press Honored By Elks Lodge

Fight For Freedom Cited By Mayor

Delta county newspapers were commended last night for their "honest effort to fairly and impartially present the news" by Escanaba Mayor Robert E. LeMire at a dinner program for newspapermen of the community sponsored by the Escanaba Lodge No. 54, B. P. O. Elks, in the Elks club.

Similar events were held throughout the nation by Elks lodges in observance of National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1 to 8. Harry Needham, exalted ruler of the Escanaba lodge, presided at the dinner.

Mayor LeMire cited the freedom of the press as one of the bulwarks of a free and democratic government, and said that this freedom is the one first attacked whenever and wherever dictatorship seeks to subjugate the minds as well as the bodies of the people.

"Democracy can function only where the people are supplied with facts," the speaker said. The founders of our country incorporated freedom of the press into the United States constitution and the press has been a sustaining force in the preservation of freedom, Mayor LeMire declared.

"Without a free press, there could not be a free people," he said, and quoted a statement by Napoleon that Napoleon feared three newspapers more than an army of men.

National Newspaper Week might well be observed on a communitywide basis in the years ahead, the mayor added. Sponsorship by the Elks lodge of such a program honoring the press in its fight for a free press will be considered for next year.

The local handling of local news was praised by the speaker, who said the newspapers are making an "honest effort to fairly and impartially present the news."

Citizens Must Act On Water Problem

VOTING TO EMPLOY the Chicago engineering firm of Consoer, Townsend and Associates to do the preliminary engineering work on the proposed new water filtration plant, the Escanaba council has initiated action on a problem that vitally concerns every resident of the community.

It is imperative that local citizens familiarize themselves thoroughly with the water problem in this community, if they have not already done so, because the people of Escanaba will have to make a decision on this vital matter within the next six months, or less.

The council has indicated an intention, and we believe rightly so, of putting the water problem to the citizens in a special election. The city could, if it chose to do so, construct a water filter plant and float revenue bonds to pay for the construction without putting the issue to the people. Revenue bonds, as contrasted from general obligation bonds, generally bring a higher rate of interest, however. This reason and the more important reason that programs of this size should be decided by the people directly, rather than through their duly elected representatives, has prompted the council to favor a special election on the issue.

The preliminary survey which will be made by the Chicago engineering firm, is the first step. The community's needs will be fully appraised in that survey and cost estimates secured. The best guess now is that a water filter plant of the size required here would cost in the neighborhood of $400,000, perhaps somewhat more. It is a lot of money but an adequate, reliable source of potable water is the most essential need in any community. Escanaba does not have such a supply at the present time.

Those persons who have followed the study of the water problem in Escanaba in recent years know that considerable investigation has been made of a ground water system expansion proposal. This has been found to be unsatisfactory. Then considerable time and some money was devoted to the possibilities of utilizing the Ranney water collection method. This, too, was found to be somewhat of a gamble which would hardly be justified in this community where an unlimited quantity of pure water is available in our backyard, so to speak.

The remaining possibility is the water filter plant, which guarantees a completely reliable water supply for all local needs. Now the question is whether or not the community is willing to spend the amount of money that will be needed to construct such a plant. It will undoubtedly mean higher water rates for a long period of time, but there is no logical alternative.

Start Of Beach House Project Delayed

LAST WEEK the city council in a special meeting awarded a contract to Olson and Fleth, local builders, for the construction of a beach house at the new city beach. We commented editorially at that time that we were happy that work would be started this fall to assure completion of the project before the opening of the bathing season in 1950.

Since then it has been disclosed that the council's action was illegal inasmuch as the beach house plans had not previously been approved by the city planning commission. Thursday night the council rescinded its previous action and submitted the beach house project to the city planning commission for further study.

The actual construction of the beach house cannot be started this fall. That is not an extremely severe blow to the beach house project, however. There still is a general belief that an agreement can be reached on plans, the contract awarded and the beach house completed by July 1 of next year. Even if that target date is missed, it is a certainty that the beach house will become a reality early in the 1950 bathing season.

The important thing is that the council has appropriated necessary funds for the project and is anxious to provide the beach house facilities by next year. The public has waited for years for this improvement and if the delay caused by further study of the plans should set the project back another month or so, that's not exactly tragic.

VA Boss Displays Extreme Courage

CARL GRAY, the head of the Veterans Administration, has given congress something to think about regarding the GI bill of rights.

Gray recently acted to put check reins on extravagance in the cost of the GI benefit program, only to find that he had to rescind his action because he lacked authority under existing law to correct grave abuses in the program.

Gray has warned that unless restrictions are tightened in the law, the cost of training veterans for jobs will exceed $60,000,000,000 by the time the benefits expire July 25, 1956. Much of this money will be wasted because the veterans will apply for—and are applying for—training that will be of no value to them from an occupational standpoint. This situation has developed because of an increase in subsistence payments. The veterans have become more interested in the subsistence allowances than in the training program for which they are requesting.

The rectification of these abuses is the responsibility of congress. The veterans administration has put the problem squarely up to the lawmakers and in view of the unfavorable financial situation of the federal government, it is urgent that congress acts quickly to plug the loopholes and prevent a colossal waste of money.

The veterans administrator has shown a high degree of courage in this situation, certainly an admirable virtue not always found in our administrators in high governmental positions. It will be interesting to note whether the lawmakers will demonstrate an equal degree of courage that will be needed to remedy the extravagance that exists in the VA program.

Doing Their Bit

TWO young Welshmen sailed for home recently after an 8000-mile tour of America that cost them only $14.50.

They hitchhiked, accepted gifts of food, slept in jails on occasion, and appeared on radio quiz programs at strategic moments. "We lived like kings after we won quiz contests in Los Angeles and Chicago," said one.

Certainly Sir Stanford Cripps, Britain's financial chief, will have to give these two an appreciative pat for their personal efforts at easing the drain on the British dollar supply.

PATCHWORK QUILTS

Patchwork quilts are part of the rich tradition of America. Perhaps quilts were first conceived as a thrifty method of using odds and ends of colorful material; but long ago housewives discovered that quilts could be a satisfying means of expression and artistic creation. Teen-aged girls worked on quilts for their hope chests; women took quiet pride in having a beautiful quilt on the four-poster guest bed.

The names of old time quilts are illustrative of the imagination and music in the hearts of those who lived in days when life was less hurried: Arkansas Traveler, Bear's Foot, Blazing Star, Goose Tracks, Grapes and Vines, Pickle Dish, Puss in the Corner, Drunkard's Path, Evening Star, Fruit Basket, Widow's Choice, Village Church, Yankee Puzzle, Rocky Glen, Rocky Road to Kansas, Twinkling Star, Tangled Garter, Wagon Tracks, Star of Texas, Swarm of Bees, Whig Rose, Log Cabin, Jacob's Ladder, Hair Pin Catcher, Hour Glass, Irish Puzzle, Churn Dash, Corn and Beans, Fan and Rainbow, Charter Oak and Cactus Blossom.

Technically, a patchwork quilt has three parts: the top, the lining and the interlining, all joined into one integral piece by symmetrical and beautifully executed hand stitching. But there is more to quilts than the utilitarian details. In days of long ago and still continuing in rural areas, was the neighborliness and friendliness when women gathered together to work and visit. The frame was stretched over the backs of chairs and perhaps, as mean folks claim, tongues worked as industriously as the flashing needles. Quilts were often made to sell at the annual sale of local organizations. At local and county fairs women competed for prizes; the exhibits of the designs and craftsmanship in sewing were always a highlight. We are told the history of quilting goes back many centuries. We know that long ago in our own nation, patchwork quilts became popular. In many homes today quilts are cherished heirlooms. In their pattern the colors, in the fine examples of sewing, we can catch a glimpse of the days when handicraftsmanship was a hallmark of integrity in one's work.—By Haydn Pearson.

Gas And Coal Lobbies Win

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The Senate committee that has rejected with righteous indignation the nomination of Leland Olds to a new term on the federal power commission has put itself in a ludicrous position. It is more than 10 years too late with this noble indignation.

If Olds was all the things the committee found him to be, then he never should have been named to the commission at all. Yet, he was not only appointed—and confirmed by the Senate—to a full term, but he was reappointed and confirmed a second time.

The material that Olds wrote for the Federated Press was available 10 years ago and five years ago. It was all there in the record and the words that Olds wrote meant then just what they mean today.

Nor has Olds himself changed during those 10 years. He is just as firm a believer in the regulation of public utilities in behalf of the consuming public. That is the real issue in the case—whether utilities shall be regulated in such a way that the companies make a fair and even a generous profit as they have during Olds' term as a commissioner while at the same time the consuming public pays a reasonable rate for gas and electricity.

RADICAL OPINIONS

In some of his writings for the Federated Press 20 years and more ago Olds expressed radical opinions. In the light of events that have happened since, what he said then may sound wrong and foolish. But many men have said things that were foolish, things they lived to regret later.

While it is true that Olds was not young when he wrote the articles that the committee professes to be so shocked by, they were written in quite another climate of opinion when doubts about capitalism were widespread because of the excesses of the boom of the 'twenties. That bubble burst in the crash of 1929 and there was more doubt and disillusion.

In the past decade the belief has grown that by regulation and a minimum of control exercised by government, the excesses can be prevented and the free enterprise system preserved in virtually its entirety. At the same time the danger of creeping controls, of a gradual encroachment of bureaucracy is real, and it is necessary to be alert against it.

But the kind of regulation that Olds stands for and the kind of controls represented by the power commission cannot be considered a new or threatening encroachment. The committee that rejected Olds didn't even pretend to say so. They evaded the whole issue by raising their hands in pious horror at words Olds had written long before he was first appointed.

COOKE DEFENDS OLDS

A. A. Berle, Jr., who has proved himself over and over to be a determined and consistent anti-Communist, put it very well when he testified in Olds' behalf. Berle said that if there weren't men like Olds to do the regulating job, then we should have to invest them in order to protect the enterprise system from its own excesses. Another effective witness for Olds was Morris L. Cooke, the engineer who left a lucrative private business to initiate the Rural Electrification Administration.

Quite apart from the words spoken by Olds, by his accusers and his defenders were the looming economic realities. The powerful forces and the clever men who worked behind the scenes to block Olds' confirmation were aiming higher. They were aiming at passage of the bill that takes the production of natural gas out from under federal regulation, a bill Olds has consistently opposed. That means that the little group of men who control the production of natural gas, among them Senator Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, can charge what the tariff will bear.

COAL LOBBY AT WORK

That explains why officials from several large cities came to testify for Olds. They knew that the millions of consumers new dependent on natural gas—a large proportion using it to heat their homes—will be charged much higher rates. If the group that blocked Olds can put across the next step and pass Senator Kerr's bill to take gas production out from under regulation, then the household will very quickly discover that something has happened to his gas bill.

Still another powerful economic force was at work. That force has a broader political base than the natural gas group. The coal producers, and this includes John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, would like to see a sizable rise in the price of natural gas, which competes with coal, and in instance after instance has replaced coal. So that force was also behind the pious words.

In our complicated society cause and effect are often so far removed that we fail to see the connection. When the household notes, a year or so from now, that the figures on his gas bill have jumped up, he may not even remember the action taken by a Senate committee that for a brief day or so made the headlines.

Must I say it?—Mrs. Y. M.

A. Not unless you wish people to look at you strangely. The Standard American pronunciation is: HEHR-um, to rhyme with "scare 'em."

Memphis: In a British novel I have come across the word "speciality." Is that a misprint?—D. M.

A. No. It is the British form of the word specialty. They pronounce it: SPESH-ee-AL-tee. Our word, specialty, is pronounced: SPESH-ull-tee.

Los Angeles: Glad to see you have turned antiformalist into antiformalist and are seeking words that are more hyperpoly-syllabisequidallianistic.—H. B.

A. That's what I always say, too.

Who's Kidding Whom?

Good Evening By Clint Dunathan

COMPLICATED—Sportsmen who feel a sense of constriction, like a tight collar or a hangman's noose around the neck, are right in step with their brother sportsmen all over the state of Michigan.

The cause of these suffocating sensations is the near-impossibility of determining what the game and fish laws are in this state. You may find in the booklet you get with your license all the information you need. More than likely you don't or it is there it is so complicated by legal verbiage that it is almost impossible to understand.

The need for simplification of the hunting and fishing regulations is acute; the time is at hand; and the man who accomplishes it will be loved like a brother.

AND DIFFICULT—It is reported on good authority (the editor of a sportsman's magazine in Lower Michigan) that "even the officials that make such laws and regulations and the officers charged with enforcing them do not know all or even the greater part of them." And he continues:

"At a Conservation Commission meeting some time ago the Directors offered to bet a hat that none of the commissioners, conservation department heads, outdoor writers or sportsmen present could correctly answer questions he could ask concerning our gun laws. He had no takers."

To add to this department of utter confusion regarding conservation laws is the efforts of the newspapers. They often make mistakes in presenting information on the complicated laws. They are more to be pitied than censured.

FOR EVERYBODY—Let not our readers gain the impression that we are critical of the conservation officer in the field, whose responsibility it is to enforce the conservation laws. He has a tough job and our sympathy, because a law is a law and God help the man who thinks he can understand all of those in the conservation department handbook.

Conservation officers are only human, some opinion to the contrary. They are doing a good job with what they have to work with, which includes some badly complicated laws and some very bad customers.

Certainly the conservation law enforcement officer should be delighted to have the hunting and fishing laws simplified and clarified. It could mean firmer legal grounds for arrests and prosecutions and bring more convictions in court. It could also mean that the public would get more effective enforcement and more fine money for its public library fund.

EVER GROWING—The Michigan game law digest for this year is a 12-page booklet that attempts to incorporate highlights on all of the laws regulating the taking of game birds and animals. It was once—and not too long ago—a six-page pamphlet.

Perhaps because the game laws are ever-growing we can excuse the compiler for three omissions and one mistake. The game law digest forgets to mention that a bow has to be unstrung when carried in a vehicle, that you have to obtain and post a camp registration card if you camp on state land while hunting, and that

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Julius A. Flath has received an appointment from Washington, D. C., to serve as electrical inspector in this district. His duties include a thorough inspection of all Rural Electrification wiring jobs.

Gladstone—Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Snyder and Elmer Cripe are leaving today for Rice Lake, Wis., where they will visit during the week at the Walter Brehmer home. Mrs. Brehmer is a daughter of the Snyders.

Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mitchell and son, Earl, of Hessel, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hoedel. The Mitchells were enroute to their home from Iron Mountain where Mr. Mitchell attended the M. E. A. conference. Mr. Mitchell is principal of the Hessel schools.

Bark River—Mr. and Mrs. John Bergman of Menominee and Mrs. E. J. Bergman returned Wednesday from a motor trip to the Copper Country.

—Netherland's Dr. Ebert de Vries, expert on rural economics.

the trapping season starts at noon. Not so important up here is the omission of a notice that Macomb county is closed to Sunday hunting.

UNUSUAL—There are some regulations in the game law digest that leave the reader with a feeling of curiosity.

Why is it that "non-residents may not take, hunt, or trap raccoons in Michigan?"

While the bird hunters are strolling down that back road they might get out their game law digest and check this item: "Highways. Unlawful to hunt on a road or highway in farm land areas without consent of adjacent property owner or owners." Bet you overlooked that one.

And here is a gem that will strike deep into the roots of the duck hunter's conscience: "Unlawful to take waterfowl by means, aid, or use of cattle, horses, or mules."

AND RIGHT—There are persons who could defend one or all of the above regulations, just as they can cite why it is important that the bow and arrow hunter must have his bow unstrung while it is being transported in his auto. The laws are undoubtedly right and they should be observed.

But the point we are trying to make is that there are too many of them and they are not clearly defined.

This confusion is aided and abetted (unintentionally) at times by the newspapers. One newspaper this week, in reporting on the legal hours for shooting waterfowl, placed Big Bay de Noe in the "west half" of Delta county. There comes that old tight feeling in the throat again.

He Hates Cats Too

Dear Editor:

More power to the man who wanted to kill a million cats or more.

The other morning about 6:30 I woke up to hear a great fluttering of wings outside my bedroom window and sure enough, there was our cat with a partridge by the neck. Mrs. L. rushed out and took the bird away from the cat. I was for shooting the cat but, no, the cat is still at large, though I am sure the cat is the reason our yard full of partridges three weeks ago are all gone now.

City Pension Plan

Dear Editor:

The employees of the City of Gladstone would like to present some facts for the consideration of the people of Gladstone who will vote in the special election on October 11 on the proposal for pensions for city employees.

Practically all employees in private industry have retirement benefits under Social Security or other similar provisions.

City employees under the present law cannot receive Social Security. Although bills have been introduced several times, as yet no legislation has been passed which permits this.

Many cities now have pension plans either under a "State Plan" or a plan of their own.

We are only asking for what most people already have. Respectfully yours, Joseph Moreau, President, Gladstone City Employees.

So They Say

We hope to get out before Thanksgiving Day, but we have a program to consider.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—The aviation industry isn't advertising it, but the United States is about to lose its superiority in the manufacture of commercial airplanes.

For years, American-built planes have been used by the French, the Dutch, even the British. The familiar DC types "Made in America" have been used by every commercial airline in the world, from Burma to Patagonia. But that day is about to pass.

The British are now ahead of us in commercial airplane design, while the Swedes are about even and will surpass us soon.

Alert Undersecretary of Commerce C. V. PEARSON

Whitney has been visiting England to investigate British commercial air superiority and is reporting that the British already have a jet-propelled transport plane far ahead of anything even started in the U. S. A.

Reason for the slump in commercial airplane design is that the Republican 80th Congress objected to Army funds being used for development of commercial planes. Hitherto, U. S. transport planes have been designed by Air Force funds used in cooperation with commercial companies. Now that money is cut off, and the big airplane manufacturers aren't designing new types.

Note—Both private industry and such G. O. P. leaders as John Foster Dulles and Guy Gabrielson have been yelling about "statism." But when government money is cut off from the aviation industry, it falls behind the rest of the world, and airplane manufacturers, most of them Republicans, want back the "statism" money cut off by the 80th Congress.

CARDINAL SPELLMAN'S TRIP

Prior to Cardinal Spellman's flight to the Vatican, it was authoritatively reported among the Catholic hierarchy that Spellman had lost his onetime position as favorite of His Holiness.

Those who have visited at the Vatican during and since Cardinal Spellman's dispute with Mrs. Roosevelt, report that the Pope was not pleased over Spellman's outburst and that this was the chief reason why the Cardinal later called on Mrs. Roosevelt at Hyde Park.

At one time Spellman was considered in line to be Papal secretary and perhaps the first American pope in history. But now it's reported inside the hierarchy that among the American cardinals, wise old Cardinal Stritch of Chicago is more in favor of the Vatican.

These factors may be one reason for Cardinal Spellman's flight to Rome.

Note—When the newly named American cardinals designate flew to Rome to receive their red hats, Spellman was the only one kissed by the pope; which caused Cardinal Glennon of St. Louis to remark: "I hear Spellman wants to be Papal secretary. He'll have us all in hot water."

THE "USUAL" SENATOR HOEY

When the mysterious John Maragon tried to smuggle French perfume into the U. S. labeled as champagne for the White House and later got the case squelched by the justice department, amiable Clyde Hoey, the swallow-tailed senator from North Carolina, described it all as "just the usual settlement."

Since then, this column has inquired of the customs bureau regarding other smuggling cases to see exactly what the "usual settlement" is. The customs bureau has been extremely loath to talk. One week of queries has disclosed no information whatsoever.

However, the New York Times contains the record of the case of one Jack Benny where the value of the goods involved was almost identical to that of Maragon's. Maragon's perfume was valued at $2,300. The jewelry which Benny tried to bring into the U. S. was valued at $2,131.

Maragon, thanks to his good friend, General Vaughan, was permitted to settle his case for a fine of only $1,500.

Jack Benny, however, had no General Vaughan inside the White House. So he paid a $10,000 fine, received a suspended jail sentence of a year and a day, and was placed on probation for one year. Benny had not smuggled the jewelry himself. Nor had he disguised it as a gift to the White House. He had given it to Albert N. Chaperau at the latter's suggestion that he would smuggle it for him.

Along with Benny, George Burns of the radio team of Burns & Allen was fined $3,000 and got a suspended jail sentence and probation. Mrs. Edgar J. Lauer, the wife of a New York supreme court justice, also was fined $2,500 plus three months in jail, while public opinion forced her husband to resign from the bench.

In contrast, Maragon paid only $1,500—which Senator Hoey calls a "usual" settlement—while the gentleman who saved him from further punishment, General Vaughan, has not resigned but is still sitting pretty at the White House.

DETECTIVES ENTER B-36 BATTLE

If the battle over the B-36 gets any hotter in actual aerial combat than it is on the ground in these piping times of peace, then we will see the hottest war in history.

For one airplane manufacturer—Glenn Martin—has even resorted to putting private detectives on the trail of blond, handsome Stuart Symington, the secretary for air. Symington, devoted to his wife and leading an exemplary life, nevertheless has had the gumshoe men checking on him, especially in St. Louis where he used to live.

Un fortunately for the society column and the Navy they haven't come up with anything.

Note—Glenn Martin, who has specialized on Navy planes in the past, has been ired because of lack of orders from the Air Forces.

OIL FIRE TESTS—Firemen of Escanaba, Bark River and Carney gained some experience in combating oil fires at the conclusion of the fire school conducted by Clifford Warner, instructor of firemanship training, Monday night. The fires were brought under control with the use of fog nozzles. The best time in putting the flames out was nine seconds. Mr. Warner represented the University of Michigan extension service and the Department of Vocational Education.

C&NW Railway Adds Diesels

Freight Trains Are Given New Power

Green Bay, Wis.—Within the next few weeks, all North Western assigned through freights between Green Bay and Chicago via the Lake Shore line will be diesel-powered, Supt. J. F. Sainsbury announced today.

The announcement followed his return from a conference in Chicago to discuss assignment of 33 more diesel freight locomotives on which the North Western will start taking delivery within the next few days. Several of the new units will be assigned to this division.

Two freights a day in each direction between Chicago and Green Bay are drawn by diesels now. It is expected that the new units will permit an earlier departure for one of the southbound trains, and diesel operation of a third train in each direction. The run to the Twin Cities, through Eland and Marshfield, also will be dieselized, under present plans. Steam will continue to be used for extras, for branch line service, and on some trains between Green Bay and Fond du Lac.

Plans provide for the maintenance of five diesel units at the Green Bay shops. Since the diesels make a maintenance layover every 1,000 miles, this would average above three units a week for servicing, Sainsbury said.

Addition of the 33 units will give the North Western system 113 road freight diesels in service, and officials have announced that no more steam power will be purchased. Steam power still is being used between Chicago and Omaha, where the large Class H locomotives, fitted with automatic train control, are doing an efficient job, according to Sainsbury. The Class H engines, among the largest in the nation, do not operate north of Fond du Lac.

Uses of diesels on passenger trains has been increasing for some years on the North Western, and most of the trains between here and Chicago are now diesel powered. Use of diesel switch engines also is on the increase.

Early-to-Bed Theory Rapped

Ruark Takes Issue With Historian

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—I would like to quarrel a mite with the noted historian, Dr. Douglas Southall Freeman, and simultaneously with his espousal of an assumption I have battled bitterly since childhood. This is the old wives' tale that early to bed and early to rise, et cetera.

Dr. Freeman is a man who smacks the sack at 9 p. m., and is generally out of same, as chipper as an ozone addled mocking bird at 2:30 a. m. This is when the doctor starts his working day. He was recently quoted as saying that people go to bed too late and arise likewise, and that the nation could be vastly improved if everyone struggled from the feathers at sunup.

There has ever been a spurious nobility attached to early rising, possibly stemming from the days when work unfinished in sunlight went undone until next day. Whatever the germination of the habit, scorn has been heaped on the late riser. He has been taunted with the title of slugabed, sleepyhead, and generally described as a no-count trifter who can only wind up hawking apples or, if successful, peddling marijuana or running numbers.

Unnatural Habit

The people who are forced, by circumstance, to unsheet themselves in the dank dawn acquire the kind of abrasive arrogance of the man who takes mid-winter baths through the ice floes, or the woman who is constantly engrossed in a diet. They wear a halo with this hair shirt of habit, and go about knocking more fortunate folks who can snuggle in the downy until noon.

I consider Dr. Freeman's habit of arising at 2:30 unnatural, anti-social, and less crammed with health-and-character building vitamins than my own cherished routine of preparing to think about getting ready to consider the idea of bed at about the same time. The days are packed with Dillard's. Anybody can stalk around in the sunlight.

For some years I was forced by poverty's pinch to haul myself shuddering from the shucks at the loathsome hour of 5 a. m.—a dread milestone on the clock when man's resistance is at low-ebb, when the streets are naked, the birds still, and your conscience rides you like a witch. After some years of this debased existence I swore a solid swear that if God ever let me out of the navy, I would sleep until noon if it meant starvation. Fortunately I found a stealing license which would permit me to eat as well as snore, but the snoring got first consideration.

For a long time I have tried to find something worth doing before noon, and apart from committing suicide, I can think of nothing that cannot be done better after a stout lunch—at, say, about 3 p. m. true clarity of thought rarely arrives before mid-night, nor does the party ever achieve the singing-in-the-kitchen stage before that time.

Missionary Will Talk In Fayette

Rev. Moulton Speaks Thursday, Oct. 13

The opportunities and the difficulties that face the Christian missionary enterprise in the new India, which is now a dominion and will soon be a sovereign Republic in the British Commonwealth of Nations, will be discussed by Rev. Joseph L. Moulton, Congregational Christian missionary from Ahmednagar, India, when he speaks at the Fall association meeting of the Delta Parish at Fayette Congregational church on Oct. 13.

"India today is a friendly country. She is friendly to Britain and to foreigners in general. Freedom of speech and assembly and the right to propagate religion is being written into the new constitution of the Republic which is coming into being," says Mr. Moulton. "The doors are open wider under independence than ever before but this is the change—she accepts her guests now on terms of absolute equality."

Mr. Moulton has an interesting angle on the subject of missionary work in the new India. He is not unduly optimistic about the situation because he feels that he is not yet ready to say that there will not be some very strong movements working to get Christians back into the Hindu fold or keep Indians from becoming Christians in the first place.

In 1947 Mr. Moulton helped organize the Ahmednagar Rotary Club. The Rotary movement is spreading in India and in this city of some 60,000 it is doing a real service. There are 31 members at present of which Mr. Moulton is the only foreigner although he hastens to explain that the word "foreigner" does not apply to Rotary.

Born in Connecticut, educated at Bates College, and Hartford Seminary, Mr. Moulton first went to India in 1918. He has served in Satara, Sholapur, Rehuri, Vaddala and Ahmednagar.

Whatever the Price Class —

"Buick's the Buy"

It's part of every street scene—something you see every day.

Car owners in three different price classes—all happy about the same thing.

One of them drives a new Buick SPECIAL, which you see poking forth its new, bold-look forefront at the left of our picture.

Another will tell you there's nothing like the SUPER's "happy medium" of size and comfort, power and easy handling, style and standing.

And if you're looking for prestige, where is your money going to buy so much as in that handsome 18-footer, the ROADMASTER, with its 150-hp performance and really royal bearing?

But all these good folks get together on this:

There's no ride quite so soft and cushiony as the Buick ride, whatever the size and series. There's no power quite so satisfyingly lively as Buick's high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power.

Above all, there's no "buy" like a Buick—no car that gives you such a rich dollar's worth of smartness, handling, comfort and liveliness for every dollar you pay.

So why not look the whole line over? Your Buick dealer has these grand travel-mates in a baker's dozen of different body types and sizes. Start your shopping in his showroom—and you'll find that even on delivery he has exactly what you want.

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE* • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Buoyant-riding QUADRUFLUX COIL SPRING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS (Dynaflow Models) plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS • Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • Double-Duty VENTIPORTS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FISHER • Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

FOR BETTER LIVING

Picture Windows Give Cape Cod Cottage Class

Picture windows, which are becoming almost a "must" in the specifications for new homes, are among the attractive features of the "West Haven," another adaptation of the Cape Cod cottage, which is introduced today by the Home of the Week Plan Service.

The wide expanses of glass on the front of this house, flanking the projecting, long-shuttered central entrance, gives the dwelling an air of distinction.

The over-all dimensions of the West Haven are 33x24 feet, and the cubage has been held down to 16,000 feet. The framing of the house has been specifically planned to keep construction cost low.

Can Build In Easy Stages
For the family which wishes to build in easy stages, the West Haven is particularly practical as the first floor is a complete living unit and the second can be left unfinished until some later time. If the family is small and doesn't need the second floor, the long dormer can be omitted, the upper part of the house left as an open attic, and construction cost reduced accordingly.

The entrance projection of the West Haven makes possible a vestibule with coat closet, opening into a small hall space at the foot of the stairs to the second floor. The living room is at the left of this hall, through an archway; the dining room, at the right.

The living room measures 16x12 feet and is made bright and cheerful by the long window on the front of the house and two small windows at either side of the fireplace. Built-in bookshelves are installed under the fireplace windows. In one corner of the long inside wall, a door from the living room opens on a rear hall connecting all the rooms of this floor.

Closets In Hallway

This rear hallway contains a linen closet and a storage closet, and the stairs to the cellar open from it. The bathroom is opposite the door to the stairs. A 13x11-foot bedroom is next to the living room, at one end of the hall, the kitchen being at the opposite end. The door from hall to dining room is a step distant from the kitchen door.

The kitchen is efficiently planned, with stove and refrigerator placed at opposite ends of a U-shaped working counter. The sink is centered in this counter, under a double window looking out to the back yard. In the wall opposite the window is a built-in ironing board. A service entry opens from the kitchen to a small covered stoop at the side of the house. If the lot is of sufficient size, this stoop could be made into a breezeway connecting house and garage. Closed in, such a breezeway would make an ideal place for laundry equipment.

The dining room, measuring 12½x12 feet, has two corner closets. In addition to the wide picture window in this room there is a standard-size window on the garage side of the house.

Cross Hall Upstairs

The second floor has a cross hall at the top of the stairs. A lavette is opposite the stairway and the bedroom doors are at either end of the hall. There is a linen closet in this upstairs hall and a large closet in the lavette. This closet could be made into a shower stall.

The larger bedroom measures 14x14 feet. It has two spacious clothes closets and storage drawers built under the eaves at both front and rear. The smaller bedroom measures 14x12 feet. It also has built-in tiers of drawers, and a single clothes closet. Both rooms receive cross light and ventilation from windows on two exposures.

As pictured, the West Haven has been finished with clapboards, painted white, with green shutters to match green fire-resistant shingles used on the roof. Shingles, brick or stone could be substituted for the outside walls.

Full insulation of the roof is advisable in any house of this type.

Complete plans and specifications for this "Home of the Week", or any other design of this series, are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Daily Press, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Storage Walls Gain Favor With Builders

Serving the double purpose of separating rooms and increasing the amount of usable space in a house, "storage walls" are gaining favor with architects and home builders. When closed, these devices look like wall cabinets. When open, they provide closet and cupboard space, book shelves, desks, wardrobes and other built-in pieces, all scientifically designed.

Originally custom-made and therefore comparatively expensive, storage walls now are available as prefabricated units, and eventually will be stocked by many lumber dealers. The dimensions of the cabinets are such that they can be combined to form walls varying in height, length and depth.

The wall may be a full partition containing a door; it may be a low wall only partly separating different sections of the same room; it can be backed up against an existing wall or it can be placed in an L or T shape.

Cinder Blocks Used To Lower Costs

In an effort to cut costs, some builders are erecting one-story houses with hollow exterior walls of cinder block. A double row of cinder block is separated by a 2½-inch air space.

There is no contact between the two walls except metal ties and the frames of windows and doors. Weep holes at the bottom of the outer wall carry off condensation.

RUBEROID TITE-ON SHINGLES

The building was completely demolished by a severe windstorm in Indiana, May 21, 1949, yet the Tite-On Shingle Roof remained intact—not a single shingle torn loose.

Here's Why Tite-On Shingles Don't Blow Off

Tite-On Shingles are self-locked together at 4 points, and invisibly nailed at 4 other points. That's why they don't blow off, and that's why they don't curl, warp or flap, either. In addition to being tornado-proof, Tite-On Shingles are durably weathertight, fire-resistant and beautiful. Practically every section of this country has experienced either a tornado, a hurricane, or a disastrously high wind. No section is immune. It might happen in your area any time.

See these remarkable shingles at our yard.

It costs no more to have the best.

Bark River
Has Wealth
Of Mushrooms

By Mrs. Symon McDermott
Old settlers in South Bark River cannot remember when mushrooms were more plentiful than they are this year. Their appreciation is enhanced because during the past two seasons none was to be found.

Weather conditions were ideal for them this year, although they are somewhat later than usual.

Some housewives have canned as many as 200 quarts. It is not unusual for pickers to return with three to four bushels after a few hours picking. To can them, housewives remove the veil underneath the bottom or umbrella, and then cut into the mushrooms to see if there are any decayed parts. After numerous hot and cold baths, the mushrooms are processed.

Mushrooms found here are known commonly as the button mushroom. It has a delicious meaty flavor and grows around old stumps, sometimes even following the roots spreading from the stumps. When young this type of mushroom has a button-like top and a meaty stem.

There are many varieties of edible mushrooms, but unless one has made a thorough study of poisonous and non-poisonous mushrooms, it is best to get acquainted with one or two easily-identified edible varieties, and stick to these alone. Illustrated government bulletins are available on mushrooms and will aid anyone who wishes to use them or become familiar with them. Several varieties are easily identified as non-poisonous.

Picking mushrooms in the fall, when the fields and woods are beautiful and crisp, is pleasant. And so is the addition they make to the family larder.

Lightning Cake
A subscriber from Gladstone submits this recipe for lightning cake.

1/4 lb. butter
4 eggs
1 cup sugar
3 cup flour
4 tsp. baking powder
3/4 cup milk
Pinch Salt
2 oz. almonds
Any flavoring
Cream the butter, add the eggs, one at a time, and beat well. Add sugar and beat again. Add flour, milk and baking powder and mix well. Put in flavoring of your choice and put mixture in a greased pan. Sprinkle the surface with chopped, blanched almonds, cinnamon and granulated sugar. Bake in a moderate oven.

Old ResidentMrs. Peter Norstrom
Rites On Monday

Mrs. Esther Norstrom, 66, widow of Peter Norstrom and well-known resident of this community, died suddenly yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock at the family home at Days River. While Mrs. Norstrom had not been in the best of health for some time, word of her death came as a shock to a host of friends.

Mrs. Norstrom was born Esther Lamberg, on May 26, 1883 in Askers, Helingsfors, Sweden and came to the United States and directly to Gladstone in 1904. Her marriage to Peter Norstrom was solemnized in Gladstone. Mr. Norstrom passed away on February 3, 1938.

The deceased was a devout member of the First Lutheran church.

Surviving are four children, Hilding of Gladstone, Ole of Appleton, Mrs. Alice Skoglund of Gladstone, and Mrs. Lawrence (Hazel) Louis, at home at Days River.

The body was removed to the Kelley funeral home where friends may call Sunday.

Funeral services will be conducted at the First Lutheran church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Clifford Peterson officiating. Remains will be taken to the church an hour before the service.

Serving as pallbearers will be Gust Larson of Manistique, Stone Anderson of Rapid River and John M. Olson, Torval Kallerson, John Nelson and William Nelson of Gladstone. Burial will be in the family lot in Fernwood cemetery.

3 Arrested On Game Charges

Two Deny Illegal Fishing Guilt

William Fluette of Route 1, Ensign, paid $25.00 and costs of $7.00 Thursday when he pleaded guilty before Justice O. C. Estenson to a charge of carrying a loaded .22 caliber rifle in an auto. He was arrested in Nahma Township on Wednesday.

Norman Labute and Ralph Ansell of Garden Township were arrested recently on a charge of fishing in Big Bay de Noquet without a commercial fishing license and upon their arraignment pleaded not guilty and trial in the case was set for Monday, October 10.

Arrests in both cases were made by Conservation Officer Hugh J. Fisher of Garden.

Rites Sunday For John Haggblom

Funeral services will be conducted at 3:30 Sunday afternoon at the Zion Lutheran church for John Haggblom, 83, pioneer lumber camp operator, who died Thursday morning at his home at 106 Arbutus avenue. The Rev. G. A. Herbert will conduct the rites and burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

Mr. Haggblom was born in Molpe, Korsnas county, in the western or Swedish section of Finland where he resided until he was eighteen years of age, when he emigrated to this country. Prior to coming here he served as postmaster in his native village. Coming first to the St. Ignace vicinity, he worked for several seasons for an uncle in a lumber camp near Detour. Going then to South Manistique, he met and married Miss Christina Norrgard in 1892.

Mr. Haggblom was a logging camp operator for more than thirty years operating in the eastern part of Upper Michigan. He was always interested in politics—particularly progressive and temperance movements and took an active part in the Bull Moose campaign in support of the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt. He was active in the promotion of the temperance cause and as a result became a charter member of the Order of Runenberg. He would however be best remembered by his friends for his poetry. He wrote more than a thousand of poems—most of them in his native Swedish.

He was a member of the Zion Lutheran church where for many years he served as secretary of the brotherhood and as a member of the church council. He was also long a member of the Scandinavian Fraternity of America and was president of the local Runenberg lodge for more than a quarter of a century.

Surviving him are a son, U. S. A. Haggblom, of Detroit; a foster son, Nestor Haggblom, of Detroit; a brother, Charles Haggblom, of Minneapolis; three grandchildren. His only daughter, Mrs. John Nessman, passed away six weeks ago.

The body will lie in state at the Kefauver & Jackson Funeral home until Sunday noon. Pall bearers will be Harry Ahlstrom, Andrew Carlson, Gust Larson, John Larson, Isaac Mickelson and Henning Erickson.

which may arise and lend assistance wherever possible. The first meeting of this group under the new setup, will be on Thursday, Nov. 3 at 7:30 o'clock, in the office of Johnson & Johnson.

We Americans Love Baseball

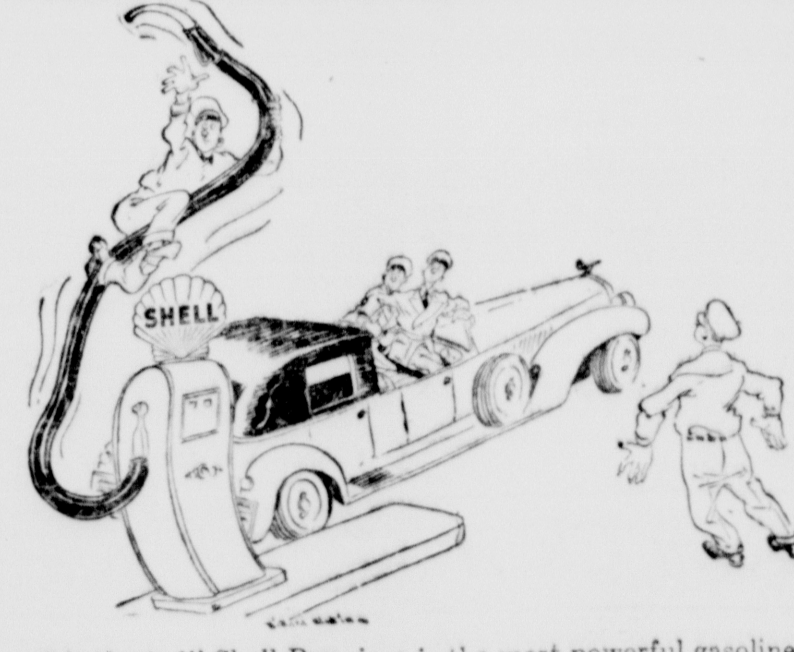

Countless thousands of businessmen and women are taking an hour or two off each day to listen to the World Series broadcasts. Frivolous? Well maybe. We are a bit "batty" one way or another. But baseball is decidedly worth while. It is wholesome sport. It sets moral standards and it is packed with thrills that appeal to young and old. Even missionaries in foreign fields find baseball a powerful ally in the promotion of their work.

China Missionary To Speak Monday At Zion Lutheran

Members and friends of the Zion Lutheran church are invited next Monday evening (at 8:00 o'clock) to hear a talk by Sister Elvira Persson, R. N., a returned missionary from China. Sister Persson, a veteran of the Augustana Mission Field in China, first went out to serve in 1924 as a missionary. During her first term she visited many villages and homes where the Word of God had never been heard. Today most of these places have their own chapel and evangelist. Returning from her first furlough, she was placed in medical work. For two months prior to her return to America in December 1938, she worked in overcrowded Shanghai doing clinical work among the refugees.

Sister Persson comes very highly recommended—we are sure her message will be both timely and interesting.

Mrs. Julius Settergren, program chairman for the evening, will introduce the speaker. There will also be selections by a sextette, and a piano solo by Miss Nadine Westin, after which a social hour will follow. Refreshments will be served in the church parlors.

Sister Persson comes here under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society.

Howard Hartman Stars As Manistique Tips Munising

Manistique, Oct. 8.—The Manistique Emeralds have redeemed themselves in the eyes of their followers. They won over the Munising Mustangs by a score of 19 to 13 and incidentally put on one of the best grid exhibitions seen here in years.

Although it was Manistique's game by an extra touchdown, the two teams were evenly matched, the main difference lay in the fact that Manistique was just a bit more desperate than the Mather High boys. It was nothing but sheer desperation that brought about Manistique's final score. The way that Howard Hartman plummeted through center to gain four straight downs and the final score is something that Manistique folks will talk about for many weeks to come.

Manistique had much the best of it in the first half when it scored its two touchdowns and had a lopsided advantage in yardage. Howard Hartman, Don Lanouir and Dick Burns clicked in spectacular fashion in this period. But Munising turned the tables in the third quarter with Nebel, Myron and LeVeque making the Emerald chances look sick for a while. Manistique's final touchdown was quite something else and provided a victory the team and coach John Viergever may be proud of.

Manistique Strong at Start

In the first quarter, after the two teams had tried ineffectually to get within scoring distance, Hartman got into the clear and ran fifty yards to within twenty yards of the goal line. Six plays later Lanouir scored on a lateral from Jack Miner. The try for point failed. Score, Manistique 6, Munising 0.

In the second quarter Manistique held the Mustangs deep in their own territory and were on their way to a second score when a fumble turned the advantage into a threat from Munising. Munising then lost the ball on a costly fumble. A few plays later Rus Demars threw a pass to Hartman who got into the clear and across the line for a touchdown. Extra point was scored by Norman Jahn. Score, Manistique 13, Munising 0.

In the third quarter Munising opened up with a pass attack interspersed with tricky reverse plays that put them deep into enemy territory. A fumble temporarily stopped the attack. But when Manistique recovered the ball it failed to gain much ground and the pass on the fourth down fluked, putting Munising in easy scoring territory. At the end of a series of rushes, Gamlin carried the ball over. The try for extra

John Mize Pinchhits 2x2; Yankees Lead Dodgers, 2-1

Brooklyn, Oct. 8 (AP)—If silent Burt Shotton runs true to form, he'll start big Don Newcombe against the Yanks' Lefty Ed Lopat today in an all-out try to square the Brooklyn-New York World Series by grabbing the fourth game.

Time and again during the regular season, the elderly manager called on his sensational Negro rookie to work with only two days rest. Newk is strong, willing and able.

Trailing 2-1 in the best-of-seven series, most of the boys figure Shotton has to come back with Newcombe. There is little indication in the big fellow's record that he would be any less effective with only two days vacation. He thrives on work.

If Newcombe is able to turn in a reasonable facsimile of his valiant, but losing, effort in the opener when he struck out 11 and batted 1-0, he should win. Games like Don turned in Wednesday afternoon don't lose twice in a row.

Looking ahead Shotton would have his 17-game winning freshman available for a probable seventh game if he could whip Lopat.

The Yanks now are 5 to 12 favorites to win the series. With the weatherman predicting "clear and warm" today with temperatures close to 80.

The status of Preacher Roe, hero of Thursday's brilliant 1-0 triumph, is uncertain. The Arkansas southpaw reports he can't bend the finger that was injured when struck by Johnny Lindell's drive to the box.

If Newcombe pitches and fails, Shotton would be forced into trying Roe, who normally requires four days rest, with only two days off. The preacher might not be able to make it.

In naming Lopat, the chunky southpaw with a 15-10 season, Manager Casey Stengel followed his pre-series routine. After shifting from Lopat to Allie Reynolds for the opener, he planned to follow with Vic Raschi, Tommy Byrne and Lopat. That has been the order. Reynolds is due Sunday.

Lopat, known to the trade as a "stuff" pitcher who gets by more on cunning than speed, picked up nine big decisions for the Yanks in the last half of the season. Four of his 15 successes were shutouts and he went all the way 14 times in 30 starts.

The Yanks never will regret the $30,000 they paid the New York Giants for Johnny Mize last Aug. 22. "Big Jawn" delivered the big pinch single that knocked out Branca in yesterday's ninth-inning.

For a man who hasn't been able to do anything except pinch hit since Aug. 28 because of a shoulder injury, the 36-year-old National League refugee is doing pretty fair. It took him 11 years to make the World Series but he's hitting 1,000.

Branca was blazing fast and apparently in complete control although the score was tied 1-1. He had retired 14 men in succession when he walked Berra with one out. The last pitch to Yogi on a 3-2 count was so wild it rolled

Hello--Packers Win One! Bulldogs Bow By 19 To 0

New York, Oct. 7 (AP)—The once powerful Green Bay Packers notched their first victory of the season last night when they turned back the New York Bulldogs, eastern division cellar-dwellers, 19-0, in a National Football League game at the Polo grounds.

Neither the Bulldogs nor the Packers had come out on top before the game, each having lost two. But the squad of Curly Lambeau was superior in all departments against the New Yorkers.

The Bulldogs battered the Green Bay nine in vain at the start, then resorted to an aerial game, with Bobby Layne in the pitching role. Layne, rushed all the way, completed a few passes, but gained little yardage.

The Packers, meanwhile, were not too effective themselves. They could not score in the first period, and when they finally did break the ice, it was via a field goal kicked by Ted Fritsch from the 45-yard line.

That seemed to give the Packers a spark, and a few minutes later they recorded one of their two touchdowns.

The Packers scored suddenly when Jug Girard, who handled most of the passing, flipped from the 13 to Nolan Luhn, in the end zone.

Fritsch's kick was blocked. No sooner had the third period started than the Packers, rather than back the Bulldog line decided again to try for a field goal. Fritsch was elected once again. It was good. This time it was from the 5.

With about a minute to play Tony Canadeo, the veteran back from Gonzaga University climaxed a long march by dashing around end for the final touch

S P O R T S

"It Seems To Me"

BY HM WARD

It was shortly after the crack of dawn this morning—give or take a couple of hours — when we answered the telephone in the ivory tower at the corner of Sixth and Ludington streets.

In our best business voice, we ran the scale with "Good Morning, Daily Press", but not a word did we hear in reply. Then suddenly riding one of the nicest Western Union singing telegram voices we've heard in a long time came this chorus:

"How I love you! How I love you! My dear, old Swami!"

No, you're wrong, it was Al Jolson. It wasn't even Larry Parks.

It was one of our alleged friends choosing this novel way of congratulating us for almost hitting the Escanaba-Kingsford game on the nose. We said Escanaba 13, Kingsford 6. It was Escanaba 13, Kingsford 7.

Kingsford's been missing placekicks all season long and darned if Dutch Cummings didn't have Bill Thomas take the ball from the holding position on a faked placement and toss a pass to Schultz for the extra point. Well, our English grandmother always used to say: "It's awfully hard to fool a Dutchman!" Now we know!

Cuff notes: We have it on good authority, Jim Skufskiss a reporter on the Hammond, Ind., Times, no less, that George Rogers Clark high school is really in Hammond, Ind., and not in Whiting, Ind., as it has been billed for 10, these many years . . . They're only a mile or two apart and the school has a Whiting postoffice. Skufskiss informs us, so it's a logical billing, that actually the school is in Hammond, which has a population of some 300,000 . . . Now you know that Marinette has some football team . . . The Marines beat GRC of Hammond, 19-7.

Credit this to Hugh Fullerton, AP sports scribe: In a recent high school football game in Ohio, a team became somewhat confused by the 1949 version of the substitution rule and found itself running a play with only 10 men on the field . . . It happened again . . . And again . . . Until finally a fan shouted from the stands: "Hey, coach, it's one for each finger, then one more."

TOOTHLESS BULLDOGS

New York, Oct. 8 (AP)—Instead of changing uniforms, name and location, the New York Bulldogs—alias Boston Yanks—probably could have used their energies better in trying to land a scoring punch.

In three National Football league contests, the toothless Bulldogs have scored a mere 14 points, and they've been blanked twice.

Their last fruitless venture came last night when they fell before the Green Bay Packers, 15-0, at the Polo Grounds.

And the Packers are hardly word-beaters! It was their first win, having been trampled twice earlier. The Bulldogs are winless.

Meanwhile, the New York Yanks tightened their hold on third place in the All-America conference by downing the Chicago Hornets, 32-24.

This evening's card sends the Chicago Cardinals to Philadelphia and Detroit to Pittsburgh. Tomorrow finds the Chicago Bears playing host to the Los Angeles Rams in a battle for first place in the western division and the New York Giants visiting the Washington Redskins.

The AAC, meanwhile, features its "game of the year" as Cleveland's unbeaten Browns travel to the west coast to battle with San Francisco's rugged 49ers. Buffalo plays at Los Angeles in the only other game.

Basketball Teams To Meet Sunday

Newly-organized girls' basketball teams will meet at the recreation center at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, Cliff Frasher will demonstrate fundamentals of the game.

Six girls' basketball teams have been organized. However, new players will be accepted, and any girl or woman interested in playing is asked to attend the meeting Sunday.

That's 4x5 For Eskymos

Thomas Paces Flivs In Stubborn Fight

Kingsford, Oct. 8 (Special)—Escanaba scored on a 40-yard pass play—Buddy Weber to Dick Shomin—in the first half and punched its way to a second-half touchdown with Dick Danielson in a starring role to beat the Kingsford Flivvers, 13-7, before a crowd of more than 2,000 fans here last night.

It was a hard-earned victory in every sense of the phrase. The Eskymos looked sharp, plenty sharp, and impressed Kingsford fans as a finely drilled team, well-schooled in fundamentals. They went all out to win this one, fighting off any possible letdown after nipping Menominee last week, but they took a physical beating in so doing.

Gruelling Game

Pat Farrell, reliable wingback, was knocked hard in the head in the first half and after a halftime rest was used only sparingly the rest of the way. Dick Shomin got a hard blow in the stomach after his pace-setting touchdown in the second quarter and was kept out of play the entire second half.

And Danielson hurt his finger again but not seriously. The aluminum finger cast was bent out of shape.

It was a gruelling game, a game of Upper Peninsula high school football titans. Kingsford was really up for this game, and it took Escanaba's best to subdue the fighting Flivs paced by Bill Thomas, who lived up to advance notices as a terrific linebacker; Bob Peshek, backs Massie and Destins and Schultz, a very capable end. He was the boy who hauled in Thomas' pass for a 36-yard gain to the Escanaba 20 that set up Kingsford's touchdown play.

Danielson Stars

It was Escanaba's fourth victory of the season against a lone defeat—and next to the 7-6 triumph over Menominee—it was just about the most welcome. The Eskymos knew the Flivs would be tough and they weren't wrong.

Just to make it complete, Coach Steve Baltics' Eskymo reserves beat Kingsford B, 7-6, yesterday afternoon. Tom Swift lateral passed to Paul Baldwin and Baldwin passed forward to Nick Prokos for the score, and Smith added the winning point from placement. Both teams scored in the first quarter, and it was see-saw the rest of the way.

Here's a brief resume of how the varsity play went last night:

First Quarter

Kingsford threatened in the first quarter when a 44-yard pass, Thomas to Dedrickson, clicked to the Escanaba 27. The Esky forwards, who played a whale of a game all the way, and braced old reliable pass interceptor Tom Nault intercepted a Menominee pass in the Escanaba 10 to end the threat.

Danielson, playing left half for the first time, wasted no time demonstrating that he fitted into his new position like a glove. Behind excellent blocking. He reeled off two successive first downs, a 15-yard sweep around right end and then a 19-yard sweep around left end to the Kingsford 31. The Esky threat died on the 22, however.

Second Quarter

After an exchange of punts, the Eskies went to town. From the Kingsford 49, Baldwin plunged five, Weber went six for a first down and Danielson lost two to put the ball on the Kingsford 40. Weber, (who turned in his best game of the year incidentally; calling signals and handling the ball with finesse) then passed to Shomin on the 25 and the big boy raced 25 yards to a touchdown. Weber placekicked his fifth successive extra point of the season.

The Flivs drove right back from the kickoff to score and tie it up. Peshek went off tackle to the Kingsford 44. Thomas passed to Schultz on the Escanaba 20 and then to Peshek on the 10. Peshek ran the 10 for a TD. He was tackled and fell over the goal line. On a fake placekick, Thomas passed to Schultz for the extra point.

The Flivs threatened as the half ended with Schultz dropping a Thomas pass on the four-yard line.

Third Quarter

Escanaba reeled off four consecutive first downs with Bob Paterick, Baldwin and Danielson doing most of the totting. That moved it from the E 26 to the K 28. Jerry Bink picked up five, Weber four to the K 17 but the Fliv line braced to take over on downs on the 20.

Then the Eskies got the TD they had coming but they got it on a break after that long drive. Schultz, back to punt, had difficulty getting off his punt after a low pass from center and it was blocked by three Esky forwards. Taking over on the K-25, Paterick plunged three, Danielson went six off tackle, eight more off tackle

Norway Vikings Battle Trojans' Eleven Tonight

St. Joseph's Trojans' traditional never-say-die spirit will be tested to the utmost at Memorial field tonight against the capable Norway Vikings, who earned the reputation of "giant killer" in Upper Peninsula high school football circles by knocking off Escanaba and Iron River on successive weekends.

Coach Allan Ronberg's Vikings will clash with Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans at 8 tonight.

Practicing diligently at Ludington park this week on fundamentals and developing an offensive punch, the Trojans hope to spring a surprise or two on the Vikings who come here favored to register another win.

Coach St. Germain said there would be some new faces in the lineup tonight. John Martinac is due to start at right tackle in place of Dave Rademacher and Jim Gravelle will be at right end in place of Mike Greis.

Harlan Pepin, a freshman, has been showing up good in practice and is due to see service at defensive tackle. Others slated for action are Clyde Kurzinski, guard, and Alfred Dufour and Jack Courneene, ends.

Officials tonight will be the Escanaba trio of Dick Schram, George Ruwitch and Steve Baltic.

UM-Army Are In Limelight

New York, Oct. 8 (P)—The season still is in its infancy but one of the best games of the campaign is on tap today — Army against Michigan.

These powerhouses of the grid-iron—Michigan shows a winning streak of 25 straight while Army's streak stands at 13 without a loss—clash at Ann Arbor before a capacity crowd of 97,000.

The mighty Wolverines, who got off to a squeaky start with a couple of relatively close triumphs over Michigan State and Stanford are mindful of the last time they met Army. That was in 1946, and the Cadets triumphed 20-13 with Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard carrying the ball.

This year's Wolverines, rated tops in the country in this week's Associated Press poll, will rule slight favorite over Army.

There are some other good games on today's calendar. Oklahoma and Texas, a couple of high scoring outfits, clash in a traditional rivalry at Dallas before 75,000. This is a tossup but Oklahoma probably will have a slight edge among the experts at game time.

Notre Dame is more worried about the Tulane game next week than Purdue, while Southern Cal., which already has whipped Navy and Washington State, probably will beat Ohio State. Baylor and Arkansas are two rough-tough teams that play for keeps with the former rated one touchdown the better. Kentucky, which has surprised one and all, has been installed as the choice over Georgia.

Some other top games of the day include U. C. L. A.—Stanford, Yale—Columbia, Iowa—Illinois, Texas Christian—Indiana, Washington—Oregon State and Iowa State—Colorado.

Grand Marais

Fridenmaker-MacDonald Wedding

Grand Marais, Mich.—Betty Jean Fridenmaker, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Smithson of Seney, and Norman Alton MacDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacDonald exchanged marriage vows October 1 at 7:30 p. m. The Methodist parsonage in Newberry, The Reverend Kelsey officiated.

The bride was attired in a pink street length gown with white accessories and a corsage of white roses and yellow mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacDonald attended the bridal couple. Mrs. Donald MacDonald wore an aqua dress and black accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses and white mums.

The bride's mother chose a grey gown with black accessories for the wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a black gown with black accessories.

Out of town guests for the wedding reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacDonald included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weeks of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. George Piffer of Coldwater, Mr. Thomas Smithson of Munising, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Walstrom and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smithson of Seney, Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacDonald and family, Mr. and Mrs. William LaCombe and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Albert LaCombe, Mr. and Mrs. William Lefebvre, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bailey also attended the reception.

500 Club
Mrs. Albert Grasser entertained the members of the East town 500 club at her home Wednesday evening.

Among those attending were Mrs. Victor Buckland, Mrs. Theodore Senecal, Mrs. Edward Soldenski, Mrs. Rex Block, Mrs. Parmer Masse, Mrs. Lee Busch, Mrs. James Thorrington, Mrs. Charles Bleckner, Mrs. Clement Soldenski, and the hostess, Mrs. Grasser.

Mrs. James Thorrington received first prize and Mrs. Theodore Senecal the cut prize. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

W. S. C. S.

The W. S. C. S. of the Community church met Tuesday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Charles Kahle was the hostess. There were twelve ladies present, namely, Miss Isabell McCall, Mrs. M. F. Touzel, Mrs. W. E. Hill, Mrs. Lily Duval, Mrs. Cora Kettering, Mrs. James Buckland, Mrs. Victor Buckland, Mrs. Mary McIver, Mrs. Felix Pearson, Mrs. Alex MacDonald, Mrs. Mina Moles and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Kahle.

Mrs. Alex MacDonald was in charge of the worship and Mrs. Felix Pearson was in charge of the program.

Plans were made for members to attend a lecture, "China Today," by Dr. Lane in Newberry, October 10 at 7:30 p. m.

Capital Moving On To Chungking

recognizing the Peiping government.

The statement branded the order a "crude attempt" to force recognition of the "People's Republic."

"Far from constituting pressure toward recognition," the statement declared, "such acts contravening recognized standards of conduct merely reflect discreditably upon the character of the Chinese Communist regime."

The statement also noted pointedly that U. S. consular officials have not been allowed to leave Mukden and that the Communists at least assented to mob action against American businessmen in Shanghai.

The formal Communist bid for American recognition was thrust away in a state department pigeonhole.

American Ships Freed

The Nationalists, possibly to avoid offending the greatest power standing firm against Red recognition, abruptly released two U. S. merchantmen which had been held by blockading Nationalist gunboats.

The ships are the Flying Independent and the Flying Clipper. They were detained Sept. 29 when they tried to leave the Yangtze after picking up passengers and cargo at Shanghai.

An important conference of High Nationalists may be in progress on their island fortress of Formosa. Gen. Chu Shin-Ming, chief of the Chinese Mission in Japan, left Tokyo suddenly for Formosa.

A question may be whether to put up a fight for Canton.

Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Moosa in Canton said present indications were the capital would be established in Chungking within two weeks.

"If a fight is put up for Canton," he added, "this doomed city might last a while longer."

Moosa reported the fall of Kung was taken as the danger signal for most of Canton's inhabitants.

The news of its loss inspired heavy outward bookings on every available form of transport. A British steamer sailed for Hong Kong packed to capacity with refugees.

Couple Celebrates Separation; Wife Dies In Leap From Truck

South Haven, Mich., Oct. 8 (P)—A Glenn, Mich., wife, despondent over the impending breakup of her marriage, leaped to her death last night from a truck her husband was driving.

The husband, Wayne L. Porter, 43, told state police his wife, Jean, 35, jumped from the moving truck as they were returning home from a beer-drinking "celebration" of their parting at a Douglas, Mich., tavern. She died two hours later, at 2 a. m., with a fractured skull.

Bankers Assemble Today For Meeting In Escanaba

Bankers of the Upper Peninsula gathered in Escanaba today for their annual fall meeting of Group One of the Michigan Bankers association. A program of addresses, a luncheon, dinner, and an executive committee session is scheduled.

Registration was held at the House of Ludington, headquarters for the association meeting.

A noon luncheon was followed by a program that included the following speakers:

John Morrison, Marquette, whose subject is "Estate Taxes"; John A. Zerbel, Marquette, who spoke on "Financial Statements"; D. Wesley Correll, vice president of the First Wisconsin National Bank, "Visibility Unlimited"; and Dr. Grover C. Dillman, president of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Houghton, "The Economic Future of the Upper Peninsula."

Edward L. Pearce, Marquette, and chairman of Group One of the MBA, presided at the luncheon meeting. Remarks were heard from William Warrington of Escanaba, president of MBA, and Ralph L. Stickle, executive manager of the Michigan Bankers association.

At the dinner meeting this eve-

Berserk Kalamazoo Mother Kills Two Children With Knife

Kalamazoo, Oct. 8 (P)—A 27-year-old mother went berserk today and killed her two children with a celery knife, police said.

The husband, said he found his wife this morning sitting in a blood-filled bathtub with the knife in her hand.

The dead body of their nine-month-old baby, Larry, was floating in the tub. In a nearby bedroom was the body of another son, John Carroll, six.

The Freeman's had just moved into their new home last night and had not even unpacked all their furniture.

Mrs. Freeman told her husband, according to police, that she couldn't stand the continual crying of the children.

Steel Plate Goes Up In Wake Of Pension

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 8 (P)—A $5 a ton price increase in steel plate was posted today by Central Iron and Steel Corp., in the wake of a 10 cents an hour insurance and pension agreement with the CIO-United Steelworkers.

Basil M. Graham, Central president, announced the boost from $75 a ton to $80.

The firm averted a strike yesterday by signing a contract calling for non-contributory pensions and insurance for its 1,100 workers.

Six times three and a Rosary

The foursome had just completed its 18-hole round on Jim Doak's three-hole, wide, jolly course, when the big porch rockers were discussing the game when Art Fisher, in drawing forth his handkerchief, inadvertently flung to the floor a circle of brown beads. Immediately there followed a tense silence, which Art broke with the casual words: "What's the matter? It's only my Rosary."

"But," he continued, picking up the beads, "I can guess what you are thinking, so let me briefly explain that you may think that way no longer."

"Of course you recognize the crucifix here at the end—the emblem of Christianity. In the circle you will note five series of eleven beads each, the first in each case being slightly separated from the ten that follow. On each of these separated beads we recite the 'Our Father' or Lord's Prayer. On each of the ten that follow we say the 'Hail Mary' or Ave Maria."

"The complete Rosary consists of three times as many beads as you see here, but by going through this thrice, I complete the whole devotion, just as we all completed a full round of golf just now by playing these three holes six times over."

"Tiresome? Not a bit of it, if we say our Rosary correctly; for we

Ford Union Head Says John Bugas Is Smart Cookie

Detroit, Oct. 8 (P)—The head of the CIO-United Auto Workers largest local today sharply criticized the union's pension agreement with the Ford Motor Car Co. but recommended its acceptance nonetheless.

Thomas W. Thompson, president of the huge Ford Local 600, praised the negotiating ability of John S. Bugas, Ford vice president in charge of industrial relations.

In a front page editorial in Ford Facts, Local 600's newspaper, Thompson referred to Bugas as a "smart cookie" who has proved himself to be "the top labor relations man in this country."

The editorial did not mention UAW-CIO President Walter P. Reuther by name. However, Thompson's criticism of the pension pact was construed as an indirect slap at Reuther who led its negotiation.

Thompson wrote that he favored ratification of the contract because its defeat would "create chaos."

BOOKIE ARRESTED

Grand Rapids, (P)—Cigar store operator Donald Elliott faces arraignment on a warrant issued Friday charging him with partnership in a gambling enterprise that netted $250,000 during the past two years. Prosecutor Roger McMahon said the warrant followed a Sept. 26 raid on a local bookie joint. Elliott last year paid a total of $3,900 in fines and costs on Saginaw grand jury charges of gambling conspiracy.

City Dartball Meeting Set For Monday At New Center In Brewery Bldg.

Things are moving fast in Delta county dartball circles. Dartball enthusiasts this season will go into action at a 100 percent dartball center in the basement of the old brewery building on Ludington street.

Eight boards, eight lanes, just like in the big leagues, with all the atmosphere—well, nearly all—of an eight-lane bowling alley. The official Escanaba dartball center will be administered by the city recreation department under George Grenholm, director.

To make plans for the season, all managers, players and other interested persons will meet in the new center at 7:30 Monday evening. They will examine the new dartball center, elect officers and conduct such other business as is deemed necessary to get the season underway.

To date, 13 teams are lined up for play, expected to start Oct. 17. Other entries will be accepted, Grenholm said. Only a nominal entry fee is being charged.

Teams which will compete this season are the Eagles (two teams), Escanaba Daily Press Compositors, Escanaba Press Editors, Bark River, Hyde, Birdseye (2), Firemen, St. Joseph Boosters, Escanaba Softball association, Escanaba township and City Employees.

In addition to this roster, which will be divided into an Industrial league and possibly a Commercial league, eight church teams are organized for play in the Escanaba Church Dartball league.

It is requested that all teams have at least one representative at the Monday meeting.

TOO ACTIVE AT 115

Detroit, (P)—Police brought Sam Wright, a former slave who claims to be 115 years old, home to his daughter after he had wandered around the city for two and a half hours. The daughter, Mrs. Lucy Perry, said: "I just can't keep up with that man."

MORE FERRIES WANTED

Marquette, (P)—Representatives of every county in Michigan's Upper Peninsula will present a resolution to Governor Williams at Iron Mountain Oct. 13 demanding better ferry facilities at the Straits of Mackinac. The resolution is backed by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.
